

Downeast Institute Shellfish Field Day

Black Duck Cove, Great Wass Island, Beals

(Follow the lobster balloons from the Jonesport-Beals Bridge)

August 23, 2008 10:00 to 3:00

Learn about:

- DEI's marine research facility and programs
- Clams, other shellfish and the shellfish industry
- The intertidal environment

Participate in activities for all ages:

- Tours of the hatchery-clam displays - touch tank with sea critters – ongoing experiments (10:00-3:00)
- Tide pool adventures / nature walks (10:00-12:00)
- Kiddy clam dig (10:00-3:00)
- Clam-flying contest (11:30)
- Ride on a lobster boat (conditions permitting, 2:00, 2:30)
- Art table with face painting (12:00-2:30)
- See how clams are shucked (1:00 to 2:00)

Enjoy

- Live Music
 - The UMM Ukulele Band 12:30 to 1:30
 - Terry Feeney 1:30 – Gerry York 2:00 – Terry Feeney & Patti Carver 2:30

Eat

Seafood, desserts, and drinks prepared and made available by the Church of Jesus Christ, Lamb of God Church at reasonable prices.

Except for the Food,
It's all Free

Sponsored by the Downeast Institute for Applied Marine Research & Education with assistance from Down East RC&D and Maine Seafood Alliance

